see that show with Jon Merrill. He knows Aileen and we got to meet her and Evan. We had a really good time. I had no idea that you were involved. Anyway, I'm gonna go back and listen to the music again. You really are incredible!!! Bye for now.

Kelly is a very funny show, with classic songs that Steve Sondheim says are brilliant! It's got funny, funny lines - like "never trust a fanatic". That killed 'em every night in Philly. Too bad David Suskind killed my show. I know you cut my show down to two hours, but maybe you'd consider putting those 45 minutes back in now that we just had a big hit at the York! May 28, 1999 09:32

Hey, Steve! I really enjoyed the show last evening. To answer your question, I did notice that there were a lot of medleys, but it didn't bother me; I figured that's how John wished to express himself. I noticed that he's had a lot of difficult relationships with his family that he brought out in the show. Actually, more than I've heard before in an act, and it made me feel almost sorry for him, which I don't think was his intent. "I Want a New Life" for a closing number... But, on a lighter issue, what a voice he has!! You also sounded great; the balance between you was good. Melissa Barber (who I MD'd at Mama in October) and I just finished a CD of the show "You Heard it Here First", which features three of my songs. I'm also working with a new lyricist at BMI, and staying around NY this summer. I think I'm finally going to learn to use the Finale software I bought!! Talk to you later...

Great home page! You have been busy! I just got back into town from a west coast tour of Aint Misbehavin. going out again next week to the pacific Northwest for a while. I lauged myself silly when I saw a Christmas card from you to Curtis on display at their loft! I said to Ron, how did you guys get a card AND NOT ME?! I missed this DS covention sadly. I will let my friend Rose know that those two songs you wrote for Nancy are now for sale. She has no email, so I can't send her your home page address. Do you know that Rose married Kevin Snith (Aries) of Zena/Hercules fame? Lucky bitch. He is so in love with her. We found ourselves in LA at the same time. We talked on the phone only, cause she was in Pasadena and I was in LA, our schedules were to tight, we could not actually see each other, so i havent met him yet. she invited me out to their new home in Aucklin, Australia. I am definitely going. Call me guy! Ing

Five random notes about Steven Silverstein. 1: Steven and I have been friends for over twenty years. Since we are both in show business, we are each others "oldest friend in the business." 2: Steven and I worked in a show that he wrote the music for, "Camping it Up." It was a good show, made better by the fact that I played the lead, Jeff the Counselor. It was the longest running show in the history of the Scarsdale YMHA. If Steven played the piano faster, it would not have run so long. Since Hirschfeld declined to draw our caricature, for the Times, I drew one, myself, and pasted it to my wall. 3: Steven is a talented composer and a top musical director. As a pianist, I have heard him play notes that most musicians don't even know exist. I know how talented Steven is from my own experiences, and also because many other performers have told me what a talented guy Steve is; and what a special pleasure it is to work with him. 4: Steve loves the theatre, and theatre people, and is one of the most creative, productive and knowing professionals in the world of musical theatre. I am glad to see that he has become a fixture of the New York, National, and International scene, as a "let's get this guy," kind of guy, whenever a company or cabaret performer wants to put on a show. I am not surprised by Steve's success. I envisioned it from the start, and I am glad that I was there when the curtain first went up. I predict even greater successes, and I can't wait to see his next act. 5: A recipe: Take Oscar Levant, and remove the bitterness; or take a young Lorenz Hart, and add five inches; or take Mel Torme, (from that great old "Main Street USA" episode of the Lucy Show)... and you get Steve Silverstein, "Broadway's Next Great Composer."

1/9/02 Hey, Steve. Happy New Year! Finally remembered to bring your note so I could log on and check you out (!) - and sign your guest book. Also finally (for the time being - at least through this week-!!) at a place (temp. job) at which I have access to the internet/can retrieve e-mails! So please keep me on your mailing list as well. What are you up to these days? Me - getting ready to do on January 25 (Friday) another performance of "Die Fledermaus" with NYMVAE - a benefit for the company. (Look for your invitation in the mail - which I thought I'd send even though I know how busy you probably are . . . as usual-!) After that . . . I'll again be "at rest" (!!!). Oh - so how did you enjoy Elaine Strich? Pretty special, huhn?! (Wish I'd seen an earlier performance, before cuts.) Take care . . . and all the very best to you in '02!!

Steven- What can I say? The journey continues! I've loved working with you over the years and am sure we will continue. Can't wait to get some of your music on my new website....er, I mean, Steven, can I put some of your music on my website? Please???? (www.williamryall.com - opening spring 2004)Some of my favorite songs continue to be yours! As long as the benefits keep coming we'll keep hauling 'em out! We started out with "47 Minutes of 47 Years" and as the years continue to fly by we may have to rethink the title! No one will ever believe I'm over 40! 2004 is going to be the start of something big, I can feel it. A new apartment - a new life, and if there is a god (I pray she's listening)-A NEW PRESIDENT! Peace & love, Bill Ryall
